

Feminist Center Press Kit

Thank you for your interest in our work! For over 43 years, Feminist Center has been providing safe, compassionate, and affordable abortion and reproductive healthcare to our community in Georgia and across the Southern states. This toolkit has been put together to help you tell our story.

Content Overview:

- About Us
- Awards & Recognition
- Photos
- Social Channels

ABOUT US

Feminist Women's Health Center is a reproductive health, rights, and justice organization. We provide safe, affordable, and compassionate abortion and reproductive healthcare to all who need it without judgment. We are a Black-led, locally-based, non-profit organization in Georgia that directly provides reproductive health services, while also protecting and promoting reproductive rights and justice through organizing and advocacy.

Community Work: Feminist Center is more than a clinic. We are a movement. Over the years we have developed community programs that specifically seek to address the systemic inequities in healthcare and society that affect women, people of color, immigrant families, and people from the trans and LGBTQIA+ communities. You can find more about our programs here.

Leadership: In May 2018, Kwajelyn Jackson became the first Black Executive Director of Feminist Women’s Health Center leading the entire organization’s operations, abortion clinic, civic engagement, education, and outreach teams. Under Kwajelyn’s leadership, the community education and outreach work has had impactful successes including preventing new abortion restrictions in the legislature for 4 sessions, the launch of the Errin J. Vuley Fellows program, and solidifying ties to key funding partners. She has the optimism, vision, and pragmatism needed to lead a multigenerational, multiracial, reproductive health, rights, and justice organization in the South. Read her full bio here.

AWARDS & RECOGNITION

- Our work has been consistently covered by local, state, and national news. For the latest media mentions and articles see our media page here.
- Champions of Choice 2017, Feminist Center (National Institute of Reproductive Health).
- The Bitch 50 list 2019, Kwajelyn Jackson (Bitch Media)
- Atlanta 500 list 2020, Kwajelyn Jackson (Atlanta Magazine)

PHOTOS

Follow this link to access our latest photographs. These photographs showcase our health clinic, community education, and advocacy work.

Copyright: The photographs shared in this section belong to Feminist Women’s Health Center. Please give credit wherever possible:

- Please do not remove the watermarked area.
- When using our photos on social media, please tag our pages (see social channel section below for our handles).

SOCIAL CHANNELS

YES! We love Social Media and are active on the ones below. Please feel free to follow us, tag us and send us messages here:

- Facebook: @FWHC.Atlanta
- Instagram: @feministcenter
- Twitter: @fwhc
- TikTok: @feministcenter

OTHER RESOURCES

Thank you again for your interest in our work. If you have any questions, you can contact us here:

- Email: Send us an email at marketing@feministcenter.org for any media-related queries.
- Call us: You can call our admin line at 404-248-5445 and ask for MK/Lauren or for more immediate requests, email Lauren at laurenm@feministcenter.org

You can also check out our website at <https://www.feministcenter.org/> for more information about us.

Name, titles and pronunciation:

- Kwajelyn Jackson, Executive Director (Kwa-JUH-lynn)
- MK Anderson, Director of Development Communications
- Lauren McEwen, Communications Manager (Mac-U-in)
- Charlita Williamson, Director of Community Engagement
- Charisse Youngblood, Director of People and Organizational Culture
- Toni Hawkins, Clinic Director
- Dr. Carrie Cwiak, Medical Director (Swee-ACK)